

Army Takes Over Control In Turkey

By GARVEN HUGHINS

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkey's ruling military junta set up a board of educators and jurists today to write a new democratic constitution and threatened to put ousted dictator Premier Adnan Menderes on trial.

Acting swiftly in the wake of Friday's bloodless military coup, Gen. Cemal Gursel and his revolutionary "Turkish National Union Committee":

1. Ordered Dean Siddik Sami Omar of Istanbul University flown to Ankara, reportedly to form a new provisional government.

2. Pledged free elections would be held "soon" to set up a democratic state, but did not set an exact date.

3. Promised that Turkey's military alliance with the United States would remain unaltered.

4. Told newspapers silenced by Menderes they could resume publishing at once and ordered release of editors jailed for opposing the strongarm policies of the ex-premier.

5. Ordered the military to disarm police throughout the country.

6. Guaranteed the safety of all foreigners.

The sudden freedom of Menderes' autocratic rule touched off an outburst of joy and relief throughout Turkey. Citizens embraced members of the armed forces in the streets and loudly cheered the 64-year-old Gursel.

The new Committee of National Unity appointed a board of professors, scientists and jurists to write a new constitution for the country.

A spokesman for the ruling military junta told newsmen Menderes would be put on trial "under existing laws if there is a well-founded complaint against him."

The spokesman did not specify whether such a trial would be conducted by a military or civilian court.

Menderes was under arrest along with President Celal Bayar, ceremonial head of the nation. Also under "surveillance" were Foreign Minister Fatin Rusta Zorlu, other cabinet members and most parliamentary deputies of the Democratic party.

Politicians Roasted by Bar Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Pulaski County Bar Assn. roasted public figures last night in its biennial Gridiron Show.

State officials and Arkansas congressional delegation drew most of the fire in the all-in fun performance.

A lawyer portraying Gov. Orval E. Faubus was dressed in a Roman toga. He fiddled while Rome burned and admired headlines of the Arkansas Recorder, a weekly newspaper, which said "Faubus cinch for fifth term" and "Faubus most popular man in Ark."

Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett also appeared in a toga and said "That's good enough for Faubus is good enough for me, and segregation certainly has gone over with a bang. I can out-segregate and out-integrate him any time." Bennett is one of Faubus' four opponents in the governor's race.

Lawyers impersonating Sen. J. William Fulbright showed up in Arkansas and Alford said, "What brings you home, senator? A outh in the family?"

Fulbright found Faubus, still in his toga, sawing away on the one-string violin. "Yes, I've been playing the same note on the same string since September, 1957, and folks don't seem to be tired of it yet," the imitation Faubus said.

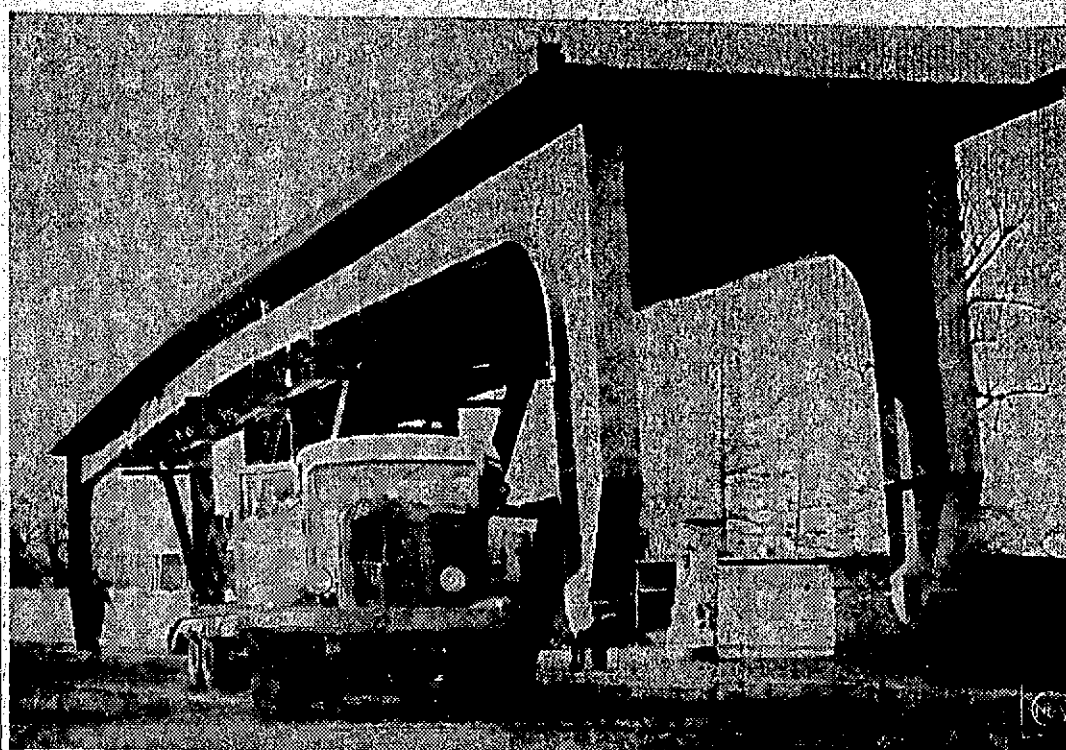

Some of those attending the funniest were Bennett, Arkansas Supreme Court Justice Jim Johnson, Joe C. Hardin, a candidate for governor; William J. Smith, Little Rock lawyer and close Faubus associate; state Rep. Paul Van Dalsen; and Frank Holt and Amis Guthridge, candidates for attorney general. Faubus was not there.

Hospitals in Pledge for Cooperation

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Spokesmen for the State Hospital and the University Medical Center today pledged cooperation in further exchange of services between the two state institutions.

The pledge was contained in a joint statement issued before the Legislative Council's Health and Welfare Committee began a hearing this afternoon into state-administered health services.

The committee is interested in co-ordinating medical services. Representatives of the state Tuberculosis Sanatorium and the Welfare Department were scheduled to attend the afternoon meeting.

The joint statement of co-operation was signed by Storm Whaley, vice president for health sciences at the Medical Center, and Dr. Grady Jones, State Hospital superintendent.

It pointed out that much of the hospital's medical needs are filled by Medical Center personnel, although there is no actual transfer of patients.

Whaley and Jones said they already have begun a series of talks on mutual problems.

Man Robbed of More Than $600

MARSHALL, Ark. (AP)—Lynn Steen of the nearby Snowball community reported that a young man lay in wait for him at his home and then robbed him of more than $600 with his own rifle last night.

Steen said he was confronted by the man holding his rifle when he returned home. He said the man whom he described as in his early 20s drove away in a late model car with a Tennessee license.

State Police said Steen reported the robbery. Loss included two $10 bills and five $5 bills in old-style large currency.

Officers threw up roadblocks in the area last night but the robber apparently escaped.

Trial Asked for Judge Suspended

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Prosecutor Walter Hebert has asked Garland Circuit Court for an early trial for County Judge H. C. Warren, who was suspended after a grand jury investigation into the affairs of several Garland County offices.

Warren, who denies guilt, has agreed, and court officials said the trial may begin the latter part of next month.

Yesterday a charge alleging that Warren illegally took part in a county transaction was dropped because the statute of limitations had run out.

Hebert asked the court to allow him to substitute a new information for an indictment charging Warren with withholding evidence of irregularities in the county collector's office.

Warren's attorney, Richard Hobbs, asked that an information charging Warren with overspending county funds be dismissed because the statute which covers the case is unconstitutional. The court will act on the petition tomorrow.

Tregoff Murder Trial Delayed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The trial of red-haired Carole Tregoff, 23, and her lover, Dr. B. Bernard Finch, 42, charged with murder, has been delayed until June 20.

The pair are accused of killing the doctor's wife, Barbara, 36, last July. In their first trial the jury deadlocked.

The delay of their second trial stems from Miss Tregoff's appeal to the State Supreme Court for the right to challenge Judge Leroy Dawson as the retrial judge. Her counsel contended he is prejudiced.

$1.7 Million for Blytheville Base

WASHINGTON (AP)—The final figure agreed upon by Senate House conferees for military construction at Blytheville Air Force Base at Blytheville, Ark., during the fiscal year beginning July 1 is $1,720,000.

The House had voted $1,877,000 and the Senate, $1,478,000.

The actual appropriation for the construction at the Blytheville base and other military installations will be handled in a separate bill.

Revives Daughter

CORNING, N.Y. (AP)—An Air Force veteran who learned mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while in the service revived his 3-year-old daughter Thursday after she pulled a plastic bag over her head.

Summit Probe Called Powder Keg

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Party leaders sat on the lid of a political powder keg today as senators called for testimony on the events leading to the summit conference breakdown.

With all senators invited, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee summoned Secretary of State Christian A. Herter to face probing questions about handling of the U-2 spy plane incident and other pre-summit developments.

A running transcript of his closed-door testimony was to be released to newsmen as rapidly as it could be censored for security purposes.

Democratic and Republican leaders stuck closely to a White House agreement Thursday that the inquiry would be conducted on a non-partisan level — so far as they can manage it.

But it seemed evident Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas would encounter difficulties in holding in leash some of his party members who contend that President Eisenhower blundered and who want the country to know about it.

There would be plenty of opportunity for those so disposed to punctuate their exit from the hearing room with critical blasts. They need not be bound by the censored testimony delivered to newsmen, if they choose to go beyond it.

And some Democrats, led by Sens. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) and A. S. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), signaled their intention to keep firing away despite Johnson's pledge to Eisenhower for a "cool, calm, objective assessment" of the reasons for the summit failure.

Monroney voiced the opinion in an interview that Adlai E. Stevenson, who has left himself open to a Democratic presidential nomination draft, had solidified national thinking by accusing the Eisenhower administration of furnishing Premier Nikita Khrushchev with the tools to scuttle the Paris meeting.

"It is tragic that President Eisenhower has let himself become the front man for all those who committed the blunders that helped wreck the conference," Monroney said.

Gore told the Senate Thursday that Eisenhower gave no reason in his televised report to the nation Wednesday night why the flight of the downed U-2 plane over the Soviet Union could not have been delayed until after the Paris meeting.

Press Association Plans Meeting

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—A missile scientist, a public relations man and an editor will be featured speakers at the Arkansas Press Assn.'s 80th annual convention here June 3-4.

The scientist, Dr. Knox T. Millsaps of the Air Force Missile Development Center at Holloman Air Force Base, N. M., will address the Friday luncheon session.

Louie E. Throgmorton, director of public relations for the Republic National Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, will be the Friday banquet speaker.

Gene Herrington, managing editor of the Arkansas Democrat, will speak to members of the Arkansas Press Women. This group is meeting jointly with the APA.

About 200 APA members and their families are expected to attend.

Soviet Spy Devices to Trophy Room

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. T. sleuths today kept vacant a sizeable space in their secret trophy room and confidently predicted they'll fill it with Soviet spy devices seized in U. T. embassies abroad.

So far, in 10 years of probing through every nook and cranny of U. S. diplomatic quarters overseas, they have turned up well over 100 spy gadgets planted by Communists.

They report the tempo of Communist bugging has stepped up. And they feel sure they can pull out the bugs just about as fast as the Reds put them in, even though the Soviets are devising ever fancier electronic gimmicks.

Captured microphones, tapped telephones and the like are shipped back to Washington and kept in a secret room in the State Department for training U. S. diplomats to be wary when they go overseas.

A display board showing various Communist bugging samples is less than half full right now. Security men are leaving the rest blank—expectantly.

One addition they count on coming across soon is a tiny TV camera. So far their trophies include only still cameras plus various soundcatching gadgets. But they figure the Reds can now build a TV camera 6 by 4 by 2 inches, with recessed lens—small enough to embed in a wall, floor or ceiling.

The State Department had no such security program in pre-cold war days. So no thorough check was made of the wooden plaque bearing the U. S. seal which a Soviet group gave to U. S. Ambassador Averell Harriman in Moscow in 1943.

It was not until 1952 — three ambassadors and seven years later — that a check turned up the secret microphone behind the eagle's beak which Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge showed to the U. N. Security Council Thursday.

The plaque had hung in the ambassadorial residence, Spasso House, in a room used as a bedroom and study, or had been kept in storage. Secretary of State George C. Marshall slept in the room when he attended the foreign ministers conference in Moscow in 1947.

Harriman said Friday night that the eagle was not bugged while he was in Moscow. The security experts aren't so sure.

Harriman said the microphone found was of an advanced type not developed until later years. But the sleuths believe the eagle originally contained an older, larger model. They deduce this from the size and markings of the secret hollow in the plaque, which was bigger than needed for the device Lodge displayed.

The security men don't know just when the eagle was bugged. It might have been originally, or when it was sent out for repairs, or during two occasions when a Soviet handyman took it to storage.

Invitation From Japs Still Stands

TOKYO (AP)—Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government today informed the United States that its invitation to President Eisenhower to visit next month still stands despite growing left-wing demonstrations demanding that he be called off.

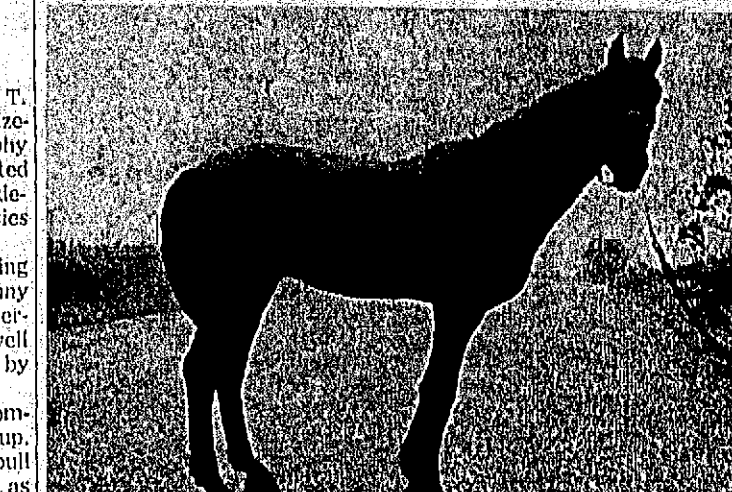

Kishi's Cabinet reaffirmed the invitation at a meeting this morning and sent word to the U. S. Embassy. Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama said, "At the present time there is no intention here of asking for a delay or cancellation of the President's scheduled visit. To do so on grounds of security would put Japan in a bad light."

However, Fujiyama's use of the words "at the present time" was taken as an indication plans for the visit might be changed if the public uproar continued.

Eisenhower's visit has been linked with the new U. S.-Japanese mutual defense treaty, which the Congress and other left-wingers are violently opposing, contending that it may open Japan to attack if the United States gets involved in a war in the Far East.

Daily left-wing demonstrations began after Kishi's majority in the lower house of Parliament ratified the pact last week. The demonstrations have picked up steam. They have demanded cancellation of the Eisenhower visit as well as Kishi's resignation and the rejection of the treaty.

Old Peavine, Famous Stallion Owned by R. F. Caldwell of Columbus, Is 31 Years Old

By MARY ANITA LASETER

He's as gay as when he was young.

At first, you might think the above statement was in reference to a person like Maurice Chivalier but no. R. F. Caldwell of Columbus said it in speaking of his horse named Peavine, which has reached the remarkable age of 31 years.

If Peavine were a human, probably the first question a reporter would ask is "To what do you owe your long life?" Asking the same question of Peavine's "interpreter," Mr. Caldwell, we were told that the horse came from a long line breed. No, the coal black stallion doesn't have any unusual eating habits.

He was bought by Mr. Caldwell in Mexico, Mo., in 1929. In its prime the horse was used chiefly for breeding, the purpose for which it was bought. During its lifetime Peavine has sired about 500 colts.

The equine Methuselah is a natural gaited horse, has always been high spirited, and remains so today. He is the grand colt of the noted saddlebred stallion, Rex McDonald, acknowledged as the best representative of the Denmark strain. Most modern saddlebreds can be traced to Rex McDonald.

R. F. Caldwell, who is a retired veterinarian, practiced his profession about 50 years. Naturally, he has a great fondness for animals, especially horses. In fact, he recalls that he has owned horses ever since he was less than two years of age.

It is known that a three-year-old horse is much older than a three-year-old child, but perhaps the remarkable age of Peavine isn't realized by many. Though exact age can't be determined by this writer, Peavine is well over 100 human years of age, making his appearance amazing to the beholder.

Titan Firing 5th Straight Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The Air Force today fired its Titan intercontinental-range missile on a fifth straight successful 5,000-mile flight.

The 98-foot rocket rose smoothly from this missile test center at 12:20 p. m. Fifteen minutes later, test officials reported the big military rocket achieved all objectives.

This missile originally was set to provide the first test for the missile detection ability of America's Midas II "spy" satellite.

However, the Air Force reported Thursday that Midas' telemetry equipment was not working properly.

The Titan carried a tactical-type nose cone toward an electronic "splash net" off Ascension Island in the South Atlantic.

The "net" consists of six widely-scattered sound receivers to record the impact of the cone as it hits the ocean. This information, radiated to ground stations, will determine the accuracy of the missile.

Ships and planes waited in the impact area to recover a data capsule set to eject from the cone. The capsule contains instruments to register the cone's performance.

Senate Probes Further Into U2 Incident

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The chairman of the Senate committee probing the U-2 spy plane incident says he's not satisfied there was effective coordination among top government agencies that handled the conflicting early statements about it.

Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Friday's testimony by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Undersecretary Douglas Dillon did not dispel his objections to the way it was handled.

Republicans on Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee generally defended Herter's position that the spy flights were needed for the free world's protection.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said the testimony showed "an incredible lack of coordination" between the State Department, the White House, the Central Intelligence Agency and other arms of the government.

The committee will resume its inquiry Tuesday with testimony by Allen Dulles, director of the CIA.

Unlike Friday's testimony, censored and then made public, Dulles' story will be secret.

Herter said Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev used the U-2 plane incident as an excuse and not as the reason for breaking up the Paris meeting. But he conceded that the flight played a part in the summit failure.

Fulbright said the action was a mistake, but Herter argued that if President Eisenhower had disclaimed responsibility for the U-2 flight he would have fallen into a trap set by Khrushchev.

Herter contended Khrushchev then would have charged that a little frantic group in the Pentagon is running the government of the United States without the President knowing about it, and that "makes" our situation "even worse."

Herter conceded, under questioning by Fulbright, that it was unprecedented for a head of state to take personal responsibility for espionage activity. But he said the circumstances of the downing of the U-2 were unusual.

"I believe in a case of this kind the telling of the truth was the better course than getting deeper into fabricating excuses or disavowing responsibility," Herter said.

He said the original plan to be followed if a U-2 plane was captured was to deny its spy mission and stick to the denial. But he said the circumstances "turned out to be rather different than anything that had been anticipated."

Herter justified the use of the U-2 on the grounds of what he said was "the tremendous importance to the whole free world and to ourselves of having some knowledge as to whether a sudden surprise attack is going to hit us."

He said to his knowledge no other plane had been downed in the Soviet Union. It was not clear whether any had been lost elsewhere. He said an April 29 flight mentioned by Khrushchev was a successful one.

Asked about the timing of the May 1 flight, which Democrats have criticized, Herter said the "summit conference was very much on my mind" when he gave approval some weeks before to the program of which the flight was a part.

The decision not to suspend the U-2 flights as the summit time approached "was a sound one," he said, and conditions later "would have prevented obtaining very important information."

Nuclear Test Ban Talks Resumed

GENEVA (AP) — Three-power nuclear test ban talks resumed today, just as the Paris summit conference had never collapsed. They had been in recess since May 12.

U. S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth said he found Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin "just as usual" and the atmosphere of the meeting "business-like and noncontroversial."

Tsarapkin told Wadsworth and British Sir Michael Wright, the Soviet Union was ready to co-operate in the Western research program to improve detection of underground nuclear blasts, but that there would be no nuclear explosions on Soviet territory as part of the program.

New Plane Speed Record Possible

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The X-15 rocket plane may have set a speed mark of as much as 2,148 m.p.h. in a test flight two weeks ago.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, announcing this today, said the exact speed cannot be definitely determined. It could have been 2,074 m.p.h. or a record.

The old mark for manned aircraft was 2,004 m.p.h. reached here Sept. 2, 1956, in the X-2 research plane by Air Force Capt. Milburn G. Apt. He was killed moments later when it went out of control and crashed.

At the X-15's controls during the possible record flight last May 12 was NASA test pilot Joe Walker. Walker was not trying to set a record on the flight. It was merely another of the X-15 test flights, in which speed and altitude are gradually being stepped up.

The X-15, with more powerful engines, is expected ultimately to soar 50 to 100 miles high at speeds up to 4,000 m.p.h.

DOROTHY DIX

Shadow and Sunshine

By DOROTHY DIX

I believe that a wife should, if humanly possible, forgive and forget the peccadilloes of an erring husband.

This, in essence, was my reply to B. J., whose husband had been unfaithful. Some damned me, others praised. Among the many responses was one from a devastated wife who disagrees sharply with my advice to forgive and forget. Her reasons are grim. Read the letter and let me know if you agree that there are times when divorce is the only solution:

Dear Dorothy Dix:

Your answer to B. J. made me chill with pity for the poor wife and babies. I am married and also have sweet babies. One night I became ill; couldn't eat or sleep, every bone in me ached. My stomach swelled till I thought it would pop open.

Ky., was honored on May 13 with a shower in the home of Mrs. Joe Hamilton in Emmet with Mrs. Herman Reyenga as co-hostess.

The bride-elect wore a light green dress and pinned at her shoulder a white carnation corsage backed by measuring spoons, a gift of the hostesses. Arrangements of pink stocks and pink roses decorated the living room.

Following the presentation of gifts to Miss McQueen, approximately 15 guests were served coffee, cookies, mints, and nuts from a dining table covered with white lace cloth over pink. A bride doll decorated the center of the table with pink candles in silver holders on each side. In front and back of the doll were crystal bowls containing white and pink roses floating in pink water.

A silver service was placed at one end of the table. From it Miss Charlotte McQueen, sister of the honoree, served the beverage. Misses Kathy Davidson and Suzanne Jones assisted with the serving. Each of the girls had a pink rose corsage.

Linda Diane Miller Celebrates 11th Birthday

On Friday night, May 20 in the Catholic Parish Hall Mr. and Mrs. James O. Miller had a party in honor of their daughter, Linda Diane, who would celebrate her 11th birthday on May 24. Colored balloons with prizes in them decorated the hall.

Games were played and movies were shown of a recent 5th and 6th grade dance at the Hope Country Club. A pretty birthday cake, ice cream, and cold drinks were served to 25 by the host couple Mrs. Smith and Miss Nellie Byers.

Hope Council of Garden Club Meets in Community Room

The Rose Garden Club of Hope was hostess for the Hope Council of Garden Clubs meeting on May 20 in the Community Room of the First National Bank.

Hendrix Spraggins of Bruner Ivory Handle Co. was a guest speaker and used for his subject "The Woodworking Industry in Hope." Ranger Jim Martin of the Arkansas Forestry Commission set forth plans for a Miss Hospitality Contest, September 1, and the Hope Council of Garden Clubs agreed to sponsor the 15 county contest. Forester Buster A. Denton of Delight was also a guest.

The success of the Spring Hat Show held recently was reported by Mrs. Sam Strong, general chairman. New Council officers for the coming year were named as follows:

President, Mrs. Lyle McMahan; first vice president, Mrs. J. S. Gibson; second vice president, Mrs. Sam Strong; recording secretary, Mrs. Buddy Porter; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold Brants; treasurer, Mrs. B. W. Edwards; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Loyd Kinnard.

HARD PURSUED

By NORMAN A. FOX

Chapter XII

THE STORY: Ry Buckner is back in Signal after five years in prison. He speculates on how much responsibility for his unjust sentence can be laid at Duke Jordan's feet. He can't find Duke, who is on the run after a shooting with Lark Rigby.

Ry Buckner found Jake Hollis returned to the lively stable. He told Jake, "I want to rent a horse and gear. For how long, I don't know."

Jake had been a working cowhand till rheumatism had got hold of him. "Take your pick," he said. "You'll find gear around. You got no hooks in your pants."

Buckner nodded. "Sure, Jake. Got a six-shooter I could have the loan of?"

Jake indicated the packing case that was his bureau. "Half a dozen in there. Belts, holsters, shells, too. Some cowhand comes in, I and I often felt that he married me to satisfy his longing for children. He spent nearly all his spare time with ours and was so proud of them. I worked hard to stretch his small wages. Perhaps I was jealous—I hadn't known too much love. Now he is gone. But I have wonderful grandchildren. They satisfy all my hunger for love."

Dear Love Hungry, let your husband continue his nefarious way. The loving you will get from your five children's children, and you will not be second choice with them. Time passes so quickly, your need for love will be met. —No-More-Love-Hungry-Mother.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am married and the mother of four, but not so long ago I was a teen-ager and "going steady."

What a foolish and wasteful way to spend your younger days! As our priest once said, "When you shop for a dress, you don't buy the first one you see. It should be the same in seeking a life companion."

Going steady too often deteriorates into going too far. This is all too evident in the pitiful letters from unwed mothers published in your column. According to the laws of the Roman Catholic Church, there is only one period in which steady company is permitted. That is for a period of six months before marriage. It may sound old-fashioned but to me and many others who have gone steady, it is a wise rule. If more observed it, there would be less of those sad letters beginning, "I am 15 and pregnant. My steady is 16 and ... —Not So Long Ago as to Forget"

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Welfare Group in Conference

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislative Council's Public Health and Welfare Committee meets today at the Capitol to investigate the spending of tax money in the medical field.

The University of Arkansas Medical Center, the State Hospital, the State Tuberculosis Sanatorium and the State Health Dept. will be included in the study.

State Senator Guy Jones of Conway, chairman of the committee, said representatives of the four agencies have been invited to the meeting.

Fulbright Names Top Assistant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lee Williams, formerly of Princeton, Ark., have been promoted to the job of administrative assistant and legislative assistant, respectively, in the office of Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.).

Williams, 34, has been legislative assistant to Fulbright since 1955. He succeeds John Erickson, who resigned to go to Kansas City with the Ford Motor Co.

Jones 30, has been with Fulbright since 1945.

Blames Burglaries on Organized Gang

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — Southeast Missouri officers said today they believed an organized gang was responsible for a series of burglaries in the area in the past 10 days.

Six stores were broken into at Catron during the night and an attempt had been made to enter another. While Sheriff W. L. Ramsey was investigating the crime, he received a call from Risco that two stores there had been entered.

The intruders had ransacked the stores looking for money. One grocery store lost about 200 cartons of cigarettes.

Sheriffs Jim McDaniel of Stoddard County and John Dennis of Scott County said they believed the breakins were committed by the same burglars who hit four stores at Bell City Tuesday night and other communities earlier.

The officers said pinball machines in the places were broken and the money removed.

Common Stock Sale

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sale of 5,000 shares of common stock by Arkansas Western Gas Co. of Fayetteville was approved yesterday by the Arkansas Public Service Commission. Funds will finance additions and improvements to the company's natural gas transmission and distribution system.

ment. It was Pru, not Dorcas, he had been following.

He moved back to his horse mounted, and came boldly over the ridge and rode down the slant into the yard. She watched his coming, and when he was close enough, he touched the brim of his hat and said, "Hello, Pru."

Top Bills, Status in U. S. Congress

SCHOOL AID — The House Thursday night passed a $1,300,000 school construction bill. It includes an amendment barring federal funds to segregated schools, which sharply decreases its chances of passing the Senate. The Senate already has passed a $1,800,000,000 bill that includes a controversial authorization to states to use the money for teachers' salaries as well as construction.

FARM — The Senate Tuesday passed the annual farm money bill providing nearly five billion dollars for a number of farm programs. The amended bill now goes to a Senate-House conference committee.

The diameter of Mars is 4,140 miles, about half the size of the earth.

NO MIRAGE—Kil Manley, 20, has found an oasis in the dry desert air of Arizona—Phoenix.

TRIM—Nicole Maurey, who adds her own trim lines to those of a well-known Paris has forsaken her beloved Paris temporarily for her second movie with Bing Crosby. She's playing the role of a French teacher in Der Ginge's "High Time," the story of a millionaire who goes to college.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables

By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a-half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

When a turning mark is reached there is a scramble as the loose footed sail is lifted over the cabin top and the boat comes about on a new tack. On the foredeck, a boy may be scooping up water and splashing it on the sail to make it set.

Even with the big crew aboard a small craft, these workboats are responsive and the racing is keen.

Rules are kept to a minimum. Course marks must be rounded without striking them. When there is danger of collision, both boats must tack. That's it.

Technicalities are omitted, and both boats and spectators seem to have more fun as a result.

The only sophistication is aboard the spectator fleet.

Yachtsmen from many countries look forward to the pleasant cruise down through the tropic isles of the Exuma chain to this wide sheltered harbor. Transoms of visiting yachts bear such home ports as Chicago, Boston and San Diego, Calif., and Oslo and New Zealand.

This year saw close competition between the "Mystery J" of Nassau, "Lady Muriel" from Staniel Cay and "Ragged" Gal from Ragged Island.

The latter was a "rule-beater" workbook displaying strong hints that the builders had been influenced by more modern racing.

But tradition won after three days of racing and "Mystery J" headed back north to Nassau with the sailing championship of the islands.

At Staniel Cay, when "Lady Muriel" sailed home with her crew of nine in second place, bonfires were built to tune up the bongo drums and calypso dancing all night celebrated a windjammer victory in the Out Islands.

In Memoriam

They have not died in vain... those who paid with their lives the last full measure. Today, Memorial Day, is the day to remember Lexington, Gettysburg, Santiago Bay, Chateau Thierry, Coral Sea, Okinawa, Palermo, Normandy and Korea. We need only to look at the cemeteries of the world to realize the supreme sacrifice that was called for, that we might be secure. It called for the giving of life itself for many a man; for untold sorrow and heartache for friends and loved ones. As they bravely died, so we must bravely live. God has a destiny for us, for America, and only eyes of faith can read that destiny. Each drop of blood spilled from Bunker Hill to Iwo Jima, is a deposit in the bank of our country. One hundred sixty-five million Americans can do no less than dedicate ourselves anew. With our Alabaster Ointment of thankfulness, let us nobly remember those who laid themselves between our country and her foes. This is Memorial Day.
